ADVISORY and ASSISTANCE SERVICES (A&AS)

(staffing, financial, program mgmt., systems engineering & technical assistance, studies and analysis, etc.)

QUESTION: What work is available at Peterson SFB for an advisory and assistance contractor?

ANSWER: The majority of A&AS services for the Peterson complex are sourced via the General Services Administration's One Acquisition Solutions for Integrated Services (OASIS) contract. There are also 8(a) contract awards that provide these services. Access the current contracts list at: <https://www.spacebasedelta1.spaceforce.mil/smallbusiness/> for A&AS requirements currently on contract.

ARCHITECT-ENGINEERING SERVICES

QUESTION: What work is available at Peterson SFB for an Environmental firm specializing in: Environmental Consulting Services, to include engineering services, NEPA documentation, Biological Assessments, Storm Water Management & Planning, map drafting services, hazardous waste treatment and disposal, remediation/environmental remediation and much more.

ANSWER: Generally (90% of the time), the Air Force Civil Engineer Center (AFCEC) fulfills our environmental business opportunities. In instances where AFCEC is not able to assist, we may use an 8(a) or GSA contractor to fulfill A&E requirements or access vendors under contracts serviced out of the United States Air Force Academy contracting office.

We send our requirements to AFCEC and AFCEC writes the contracts. AFCEC negotiates with one of their many contractors, (SDVOSB, 8(a), and SB), then the contractor does the work for us. All AFCEC solicitations are listed under "Contracting Opportunities" on SAM.gov. You may contact the AFCEC Small Business Office at: <http://www.afcec.af.mil/Home/Business/>
